The image contains a map with various sewer structures marked, such as drop manholes, valve boxes, pigging stations, and reducers. The map is labeled with various codes and measurements, indicating the locations and dimensions of these structures. The map also includes streets and other geographic features, providing a comprehensive view of the area's infrastructure.